Creating art can be a helpful part of the healing process.

In a creative and calming environment, pediatric patients who are currently receiving or have completed treatment can work with a variety of materials and techniques such as watercolor, acrylic paints, collage, and pastels.

Art materials are provided.

This is a time for self-expression.

No art experience is required.

Family members and caregivers are also welcome to participate.

An Art Therapist is available to all clients who wish to discuss their work.
